Stinnes And Others Defeat Efforts To Stabilise The Mark

(Reuter's Service)

London, April 26.—The president of the Reichsbank, Dr. Havenstein, explaining the six percent. rise in the discount rate, made a severe reference to German industrialists who were nullifying the Reichsbank's efforts to stabilise the mark and complained that their daily speculations in foreign exchange far exceeded their real needs. He threatened to impose restrictions irrespective of persons, if the practice did not cease.

The papers state that Herr Stinnes recently bought foreign exchange for several millions of gold marks in a single day.

First Court Fight Over Freedom Of Air In America

Exclusive Dispatch To THE CHINA PRESS

Joliet, Ill. April 27.—The first court fight over the freedom of the air will take place at the Livingston County Court house at Pontiac, near here, during the April term of the District Court.

The suit is based on the temporary injunction secured by Mr. Edward McWilliams, wealthy president of the State Bank of Dwight, restraining Wylie Bernan, an 18 year old boy, from using his broadcasting radio station because it interfered with radio receiving in the McWilliam's home on election night.

Secretary of Commerce Herbert Hoover, who has supervision of all amateur radio fans, and Hiram Percy Maxim, the famous gun inventor and president of the American Radio Relay League, are expected to attend the proceedings.

Anema, requested the Foreign Minister to try and secure the co-operation of the smaller Powers, especially the Scandinavian countries and Switzerland, with a view to encouraging the idea of international justice.

M. Anema expressed the opinion that the League of Nations had no prestige or authority to deal with great international problems.

Steamer, Temporarily An Ark With All The Animals Aboard, Arrives In Port

The President Wilson Carrying Whole Menagerie Of Jungle Creatures Captured By Frank Buck

BY LARRY LEHRBAS

Noah's Ark chugged up the Whangpoo yesterday morning and cast anchor off Shanghai's Mount Aratish skyline.

The Ark is, perhaps, better known as the President Wilson, and Noah's reincarnation is known to his best friends as Frank Buck. The animals of the well known scow-boat, however, are just the same as on the original ship—two by two, they are all there—elephants, rhinoceros (or whatever the plural is), pythons, monkeys of every known variety and a few new missing links, and birds that have perched on every kind of tree in the tropical jungles.

Mr. Buck, who is perhaps the most noted animal collector in the United States, is taking the consignment to America where they will be scattered about in several of the largest zoos in the country, including those at New York, Philadelphia and St. Louis, as well as the new zoo just being started at San Diego, California.

He came to the Orient on his annual wild animal catching junket in December, and since then has been prowling about Indian jungles, Straits Settlements junkles, Borneo jungles, and every other kind of jungles looking for the most rare birds, animals or reptiles possible to secure.

"HOLD YOUR HORSES!"

On board the President Wilson now he has two elephants—one weighing 2½ tons, which is going to Dr. William T. Hornaday, curator of the New York Zoo, and one little fellow of two tons that is going to be a sight for kiddies' eyes in the zoo at Philadelphia. The two rhinoceros aboard are also miniature dinosaurs. Both were captured on a special expedition Mr. Buck organised to go into Nepal and one tips the scales at two tons, while the other one, not quite full grown, Mr. Buck says, is a charming little gazelle of a ton-and-a-half. Mr. Buck values them at $15,000 gold.

"What in the world do you feed the brutes?" several of the passengers have asked Mr. Buck after standing around their corrals and cages on the forward deck of the liner.

And some of the sea-travelers, not being content with his answers have watched the rhino's chow at breakfast, tiffin and dinner to satisfy their own curiousity. And let it be known right now that a rhino is the closest rival of the pelican known to nature fakirs. Mr. Buck's two dainty eaters stow away approximately 25 pounds of grub a day.

DAINTY EATERS

At breakfast, not being very hungry after their beauty naps, they dine of chopped oats, boiled sweet potatoes and a bale so of hay. At tiffin they get nothing but boiled rice and sugar—the sugar being a splendid anti-fat food—and at dinner they surround their jungle dinner coats with a couple more bales of hay. Mr. Buck was unable to discover napkins on the President liner large enough to be of real service so they each wear a nice gunny sack under their jowls at meal times.

"I thought I was going to lose both of the rhino's between Hongkong and Shanghai," Mr. Buck said last night as he was tucking his floating zoo into their downy cots. "For several days we had rain and a cold, driving gale. The poor little fellows were shaking and quivering and I was scared to death they'd catch their death of cold. Fortunately, however, they escaped with just a little sniffle.

"As it was," Mr. Buck continued," I lost enough of my consignment as a result of the storm we ran into. The animals, you see, are all housed on the forward deck, and outside of the small protection given them from the canvas I've put up, are entirely exposed. And the rhino's and some of the others are used to snuggling their noses into nice warm mud-banks along some tropical stream and bask in the sun instead of doing the shimmy in a cold rain.

"I have, or rather had, five rare pigmy water buffaloes, but three of them, including a rare cow, died on the trip to Shanghai. She was worth approximately $1,000 gold. I started out from India with six tapirs—they're a curious looking beast, sort of a cross between a pig and an elephant—but three of them died just before we reached Shanghai. Of the hundred or so monkeys of all species, including several rare varieties, with which I started ten or twelve have gone to the monkey heaven and were duly buried at sea.

A NOSEY MONKEY

"Two of the monkeys are extremely rare—a Probiscus monkey and its little son. The mother is noted for her long snoot—she has a nose two inches long—and weighs about six pounds. Her little son and heir, which she carries around just as a human mother carries her darling young—weighs five ounces. Of the other rare species the lion-tailed monkeys, the Sacred Indian monkeys and the Sumatran pig-tailed variety all came through alright although I

TRADE HURT BY HIGH U.S. COTTON PRICES, CHARGE

International Federation Urges Other Countries To Produce Fibre

(Reuter's Service)

Lucerne, April 26.—At a meeting here yesterday of the Committee of the International Cotton Federation, reports were submitted which showed that the state of the trade in all countries was most unsatisfactory. There appeared to be very little prospect of an immediate improvement.

The meeting decided to issue a manifesto to the trade stating that the Committee was of the opinion that the present high price of American cotton stood in the way of stimulating the demand for cotton goods and therefore the Committee considered that every country able to produce cotton on a commercial basis had an excellent opportunity for improving its financial position by the extension of cotton growing.

The Committee unanimously passed a resolution in favor of the establishment of universal cotton standards and endorsed draft rules governing tribunals for the settlement of international disputes arising from contracts for yarn or cloth. The rules will be considered by the affiliated associations before their final adoption.

STEAMER FOUND, PASSENGERS AND CREW MISSING

Mystery In Disappearance Of 237 Who Were Aboard Portuguese Ship

(Reuter's Service)

Capetown, April 26.—A sensational sequel to the stranding of the Portuguese mail steamer, Mossamedes, at Cape Frio is reported.

The Commonwealth and Dominion liner, Port Victor, was summoned by wireless but found the Mossamedes abandoned and no sign of the 237 souls on board which included 29 women and 35 children. Two of the passengers were British and the remainder Portuguese.

The Port Victor is searching for the boats. There is grave anxiety with regard to the safety as there are no landing places in the neighborhood and a heavy sea is running.

Later.—The Port Victor is abandoning the search and proceeding to Capetown. The British gunboat, Dwarf, has proceeded to the vicinity of Cape Frio and it is hoped that she may possibly pick up some of the boats.

The Woermann liner, Muanea, has been instructed to steam coastwise from Loanda and to make a thorough search for the missing boats.

The Union Government has requested the police of South-West Africa, if feasible, to send an expedition to the uninhabited coast as the boats have possibly put in at Great Fish Bay or Port Alexander, with neither of which is there telegraphic communication.

DUKE OF YORK AND HIS BRIDE ACCLAIMED BY THRONGS

Thousands See Royal Party On Way To Abbey

BRILLIANT AFFAIR

Civil And Military Officials Lend Color To Ceremony

(Reuter's Service)

London, April 26.—The marriage of the Duke of York, whose active interest in the welfare of the workers has earned him the appellation of "The Industrial Prince," to Lady Elizabeth Bowes-Lyon, daughter of the ancient Scottish house of Strathmore, appealed to the popular imagination equally with Princess Mary's wedding as an event linking the Throne with the people.

The papers for weeks past have been filled with details of the lives and qualities of the young couple. London's transport services were taxed to the utmost to cope with the inrush of visitors.

The weather prospects yesterday were very gloomy. There was heavy rain throughout the day, which continued this morning, but a few minutes after the service began at Westminster Abbey a burst of sunshine cheered the large numbers of people, mostly women, who were assembling along the route throughout the night.

Shortly after eleven o'clock the first Royal procession, in which were Queen Alexandra, the Empress Marie and Princess Victoria, left Marlborough House for the Abbey.

One minute later the King and Queen and Prince George with their suites departed from Buckingham Palace.

Seven minutes later the Duke of York, accompanied by the Prince of Wales, Prince Henry and his supporters, left the Palace.

All the processions were escorted by Life Guards.

All along the route they were cheered by the huge crowds but perhaps the greatest cheer was reserved for the winsome bride, when, accompanied by her father, in a resplendent State coach she drove from the family mansion in Bruton Street via Hyde Park Corner, Constitution Hill and the Mall.

The opening of the doors of the Abbey was the signal for a steady stream of distinguished statesmen, naval and military officers, Ambassadors, representatives of the Dominions, India and the Crown Colonies and their ladies, whose exquisite gowns and furs were only excelled by the brilliance of the peers' levee dress and the generals' and admirals' uniforms.

An intimate touch was added by the seats reserved at the Duke of York's request for boys from industrial centers and shop-girls.

Mr. Sydney Nicholson, the organist, performed Purcell's Suite and Handel's Minuet from Berenice until the appointed time approached when the strains of Saint-Seans's Benediction Nuptiale burst forth. Apart from Saint-Seans's composition and Mendelssohn's Wedding March which closed the ceremony the music was all British.

As the officiating clergy in magnificent robes advanced to the sacrarium, the Archbishops of Canterbury and York and the Bishop of London sat awaiting the arrival of the Royal procession.

The procession advanced up the nave, arranged on either side of the King and Queen. The choir, singing "Lead Us, Heavenly Father," heralded the approach of the bride, leaning on her father's arm and followed by two trainbearers and eight bridesmaids, who completed the glorious pageant.

Queen Alexandra, who was seated on the King's left, rose and affectionately kissed the Duke of York, the Prince of Wales and Prince Henry.

The bridegroom wore Air Force uniform, the Prince of Wales Guard's uniform, Prince Henry Hussar uniform and the King naval uniform.

After the Dean of Westminster had read the exhortation in the revised form, the Archbishop of Canterbury performed the service.

The Archbishop of York delivered an address, exhorting the young

ECHO OF FASHION SHOW HEARD IN COURT DISPUTE

Shop Owner Accuses Former Employe Of Theft Of Gown

"Fashions have wrought more mischief than revolution."—Victor Hugo.

An appendix to the recent Fashion Show held at the new Carlton by the American Woman's Club was heard in the British Police Court yesterday when Miss Tony Tuttleman of 15 Chaufoong Road, a former employee, was charged with the theft of goods valued at $181.65 by Miss Emily Moore, manager of Mahriah's, 8 Broadway.

After evidence had been presented at morning and afternoon sessions yesterday the case was adjourned until Monday. Mr. H. E. Newman is representing Mahriah's and Mr. Lipson Ward and Mr. F. F. Faison are representing Miss Tuttleman.

Miss Emily Maria Moore, manager of Mahriah's, Broadway, said the defendant was engaged by her as a saleswoman on Nov. 15 last year, and was in charge of the stock. At the beginning of April she suspected thefts, as she noticed something strange about a bolt of white material, part of which had been cut and used for a dress which was exhibited at the Fashion Show at the Carlton on March 28. She missed several yards of this bolt on April 2 when to her knowledge only four and a half yards had been used out of 16 or 20 yards originally in stock.

When she discovered the loss she told another assistant, Miss Elsa, in the presence of the defendant, that if through her carelessness the material had been lost, she would have to pay $20. Later this sum was paid by the girl. The material was being sold in the shop at $16 a yard.

Miss Elsa later on spoke to her about the matter, and in consequence she put a watch on the defendant on the following Monday as witness had to go out in the afternoon. Defendant left her the following Wednesday, alleging that she was to be operated on for tonsilitis. As a result of a conversation with the young woman's father the defendant came to the shop on Sunday for the stocktaking. Witness did not mention anything to her about the loss of the white material.

On Monday, the 16th, she had a conversation with Mr. Williams (who lived in the house of the Tuttlemans) and arranged for an interview at the Astor House with the defendant. Witness could not keep it. She went to the Police and an interview took place at the house of the defendant in the presence of her father and mother, her sister Sarah, Detective-Ser-

U. S. SENTIMENT FAVORS U. S. ENTRY INTO WORLD COURT

Republican Leaders Convinced People Want Participation

Exclusive Dispatch To THE CHINA PRESS

Washington, April 27.—A preponderance of sentiment among Republican leaders supports President Harding in his plan to have the United States enter the world Court, according to a newspaper survey made today.

Although Senator Borah and others of the little group of irreconcilables and Congressman Wood have come out in opposition to the plan there is said to be little chance of a party split on the issue.

Ex-Justice of the Supreme Court John Clarke, in a speech at Chicago today, advocated the entry of the United States into the World Court and predicted that if it were put to a vote of the people it would win by an overwhelming majority.

Mr. Clarke recently resigned from the United States Supreme Court in order to make a nation-wide campaign in support of American entry into the League of Nations.

(Reuter's Service)

Washington, April 27.—Mr. Elihu Root has endorsed President Harding's plea for participation by the United States in the Permanent Court of International Justice at The Hague.

500 RUSSIAN REFUGEES AT MANILA TO BE TAKEN TO U.S.

Harding Is Convinced They Will Make Good Citizens

SOLVES PROBLEM

Army Transport To Take Them To America

Exclusive Dispatch To THE CHINA PRESS

Washington, April 27.—President Harding today issued a statement in which he said he had decided to permit the 500 Russian refugees now with Admiral Stark's fleet at Manila and Mariveles, in the Philippines, to enter the United States.

In his statement the President said that from the reports of investigators he was certain the refugees, who are mostly skilled workers, would make good citizens. The refugees may be brought to the United States on an army transport.

The Russian refugees referred to in the exclusive dispatch to THE CHINA PRESS are on board the twelve homeless port vessels under command of Admiral Stark who were held at Woosung for three weeks because of the refusal of the Chinese authorities to allow them to land.

During the time the homeless fleet was at Woosung a large number of the refugees left the ships regardless of orders against their landing, and have scattered about Shanghai, adding greatly to Shanghai's Russian problem.

During their stay at Woosung the Soviet authorities offered to allow them to return to Russia unconditionally, but the refugees refused to accept the offer, and after securing coal and food from charitable funds here, sailed for the South. They were stopped at Mariveles by an American destroyer and have since remained under observation there, although batches have been allowed to go to Manila and work, living in a detention camp.

Explains Britain's Advertising Policy

(Reuter's Service)

London, April 26.—In the House of Commons today, replying to Mr. F. Linfield, Liberal Member for Mid-Bedfordshire, Mr. Ormsby-Gore, the Under-Secretary of State for the Colonies, said that general instructions had not been given governing the distribution of official advertisements to newspapers in the Crown colonies.

The Secretary of State for the Colonies would naturally leave such a subject to the discretion of the Governor in each case.

He was not aware of the Government of Ceylon in differentiating between the newspapers approving or criticising its policy.

Morse Alphabet May Be Displaced

(Reuter's Service)

New York, April 26.—The invention of a new method of sending telegraphic signals, which, it is calculated, will increase the speed of transmission by 150 percent, was announced to the annual meeting of the National Academy of Sciences at Washington today by Major-General George O. Squier, the Chief of the United States Signal Service.

It is proposed to displace the Morse and cable alphabets by an alphabet where the signal units all occupy equal lengths of time and have equal importance. They will be differentiated by different intensities of the sinusoidal wave exactly in the manner in which music and speech are formed.

RAIN PREVENTS ANNUAL PARADE OF VOLUNTEERS

Review Of Corps, Set For Today, Is Cancelled

Due to the unkindness of the Weather Man there will be no annual inspection parade of the Shanghai Volunteer Corps this year. The inspection was scheduled for this afternoon at the Polo Ground and Major-General Sir John Fowler, K.C.M.G., C.B., D.S.O., General Officer Commanding the British forces in China, arrived from Hongkong yesterday by the steamer President Wilson to review the troops, but the steady downpour caused a decision for the cancelling of the annual parade last night.

Inspection of the various units of the Corps was begun yesterday afternoon by Major-General Fowler and will continue over the week-end. He inspected four companies at the Drill Hall—"A" and "B" Companies, British, the Shanghai Scottish and the British Infantry Reserves. At 6:15 p.m. he inspected the Light Horse at the Race Course.

Tonight the annual inspection dinner of the Officers' Mess will be held at the Shanghai Club and all officers on the active and reserve list who are at present in Shanghai will attend.

The annual Church parade has been set for tomorrow morning, the units to fall in on the Ewo foreshore at 9:45 o'clock, when parties will be formed to attend services at Holy Trinity Cathedral and St. Joseph's. Immediately after the Church parade officers on the reserve and active list will proceed to the British Consulate grounds, where a photograph will be taken.

The presentation of the new colors to the Corps will take place at 2:30 p.m. next Saturday, May 5. It will be an impressive ceremony and there should be a large attendance of spectators.

Warren And Harding Confer On Mexico

Exclusive Dispatch To THE CHINA PRESS

Washington, April 27.—Mr. Charles Beecher Warren, who has just been appointed one of the two American commissioners to go to Mexico City to confer with Mexican authorities over a possible resumption of friendly relations, including the recognition of the Obregon Government, held a conference with President Harding today on the general situation.

Exclusive Dispatch To THE CHINA PRESS

Juarez, Mexico, April 27.—It was announced today that a subdivision of the estate of General Luis Terrazas, consisting of approximately 8,000,000 acres, would be made on May 1.

General Terrazas was Mexico's greatest land-owner and his estates, during his lifetime, and since his death, have been one of the big points at issue in Mexico. Under the plan said to be backed by President Obregon the estate will be divided into small farms and ranches to be worked by peons.

Aeros Take Fight Out Of Shen's Men

(Special To The China Press)

Peking, April 27.—According to a message from the Telegraph Administration at Shameen, the forces of General Shen Hung-yin have completely evacuated Hsiachih after suffering heavy casualties. The men refused to take orders from their superior on account of the presence of airplanes over them.

The Yunnanese troops, however, also sustained big losses, 3,000 being either wounded or killed because of their lack of arms and munitions. Strategists say that if an immediate campaign is conducted by the Northern troops, they may yet save the situation. General Yih Chu, the anti-Sun leader, has returned from Hongkong to Huichow in order to cooperate with the Northerners in settling the Canton situation.

Echo Of Fashion Show Heard In Court Dispute

keeper, and a Chinese detective. Defendant wanted a private interview, which was not granted. Defendant had no authority to take anything away.

"A PINAFORE?"

Miss Moore produced a part of the dress exhibited at the Fashion Show, and the Judge remarked that it looked to him like a child's pinafore. It was a very scanty costume. The half-suppressed giggle that went over the Court room broke when Mr. Lipson Ward added, "There is little more than usual."

Other garments were produced, and one gown was of the same style as that on show. There was a black Salome velvet article with pink trimming, a brown lace cape and yards of lace.

Miss Tuttleman, Miss Moore added, was in receipt of $150 a month and 1 percent as commission on all sales. The commission averaged $50.

Mr. Lipson Ward severely cross-examined the witness as to her qualifications to act as manager of the fashion establishment, and she did not answer when pressed as to what was her business before she acquired Mahriah's.

Witness said that she had told the defendant that at one time there was a shortage in the stock of goods to the value of $12,000.

AFTERNOON HEARING

When the hearing was resumed in the afternoon, Mr. Lipson Ward continued his cross-examination.

Were you continually asking her to go out with you? I had taken her once to Eddie's when we were working late. At the Fashion Show I asked her if she would like to join my party and she did not as she had her own partner.

I suggest that you were always asking her to go out to your house and she would never go? I have never in my life invited her to my house. I have never invited her with me.

Is not the cost of a dress out of that white material $35? No. $50.

And you sell it at $175? Between $150 and $175.

Would you be annoyed to learn that Miss Tony had made a dress and charged the lady only $50 for it? No.

You know that rule was not obeyed? Probably not.

And that was why you made Miss Elsa pay $20? No. I made her pay as she was responsible once the goods were placed in her hands.

Miss Moore said she had been told that Mrs. Gregge had had a dress made of her own material and a charge of $35 was to be made. The silk was lost, and witness discovered that four yards were taken away by Miss Tony and charged up to the defendant in the books. The dress was locked up and not delivered.

Counsel suggested that the dress was so much liked by the witness that she keep it, saying it could be sold in the shop for $150.

Miss Moore admitted that the lost silk was found in the shop. There was a coolie and a bookkeeper there and sometimes her tailors. Several of the latter came with the defendant, and six of these had left since Miss Tony left the shop. She suspected the thefts in March and kept the girl here until April 3, and regarded them as petty things which one in business had to put up with. She had one trusted servant in the shop and he was a Chinese. Defendant knew that a watch had been placed on her as she had remarked on the fact in the shop.

Sarah, a younger sister of Miss Tuttleman's, was employed in the shop after she left, Miss Moore said, but after she had telephoned Mrs. Tuttleman about a missing parcel the girl left her employment. Later, she said, she again telephoned the Tuttleman's and charged Tony with theft.

Counsel suggested that Miss Moore had brought the charge because Miss Tuttleman had refused to go back to work for her, but Miss Moore replied that she did not want the girl back except for stocktaking.

"AN OPEN BOOK"

Did Tony know anything about you that you did not want anyone else to know? No, my life is an open book.

Counsel then asked several questions concerning claim Miss Moore was supposed to have made against the Astor House Hotel for damage done by leaky pipe, but Miss Moore denied that she had ever made any claim.

"Is a Mr. Wilson a friend of yours?," the attorney asked.

"Yes."

"Is Detective Sergeant Tinkler?" "No."

"Have you ever been out with him?"

"I think Tony and myself went out with Williams and Tinkler."

Miss Moore was then questioned concerning whether or not she had ever loaned a man named Williams, who formerly lived at the Tuttleman's and was now out of employment, any money. She denied that she had, and as the hour was late the case was adjourned until Monday morning.

CHINESE AWAIT OUTCOME OF POLICE TRIAL

No action will be taken by the local Chinese organisations in the alleged police torturing case before the decision in the two cases pending in the Japanese Consular Court and Mixed Court, according to the decision of several important bodies at a meeting yesterday.

Discussion of the failure of the prosecution in the British Supreme Court at the meeting brought the decision that as the complaint of Loh Tse-wah was one involving a great many legal technicalities the matter should be deliberated upon patiently by legal experts before any further action is taken.

The complainant, Loh, has gone back to hospital, it was stated, on account of the strain he had undergone during the trial.

Kiangsu Governor Charged With Bartering Away Provincial Assets

A thorough inquiry was ordered yesterday by the Cabinet into the issuance by the Kiangsu Governor, Han Kuo-chun, of provincial public bonds amounting to $7,000,000, which has been vigorously opposed by the Kiangsu people.

The action was taken as a result of the opposition raised by the Union of City Assemblies at Shanghai, which filed a petition with the Central Government recently to the effect that the issuance was unlawful because it had never been authorised by the Provincial Assembly.

The union further charged the governor with having mortgaged to Shanghai banks the receipts of the likin taxes, land taxes and other resources and with obstructing the attempts of the people toward self-government.

The union is advocating the ousting of Han from the gubernatorial chair.

Wedding

WEMYSS—O'BRIEN BUTLER

A very pretty wedding was solemnised at St. John's Church, Hankow, on April 23 when Miss O'Brien-Butler, daughter of Mr. Pierce Essex O'Brien-Butler, late of H. B. M. Consular Service in China and now resident in London was married to Mr. George Alexander Finnis Wemyss. Both are prominent and until very lately prominent members in the Hankow community, Mr. Wemyss only recently having been transferred to the Shanghai branch of the Chartered Bank. The Rev. A. C. S. Trivett officiated. Mr. A. MacIntosh was best man. The nave of the church was very effectively decorated for the occasion with white snowball blossom and marguerites.

The bride was given away by Mr. P. S. Heintzleman, Consul-General for the United States, her brother-in-law. She was accompanied by her sister, Mrs. P. S. Heintzleman, as Matron of Honor.

Mr. N. R. Cockburn and Mr. J. F. Cannan acted as ushers while Mr. H. Baker officiated as organist.

After the ceremony a reception was held at Mr. and Mrs. Heintzleman's house, the toast being proposed by Dr. J. G. Schurman, American Minister. There were also present Admiral W. W. Phelps of the U .S. Navy and his aides, Lieut. Commdr. T. Lang and Lieut. Lockwood, and the Assist. Bishop Moull of West China. The happy couple then left by the Luenyi for Shanghai.

A CORRECTION

The announcement in these columns yesterday that Miss Corinne Goodnight and Mr. George McCormick had been married at the American Consulate on Wednesday was incorrect. Announcement was made by friends of Miss Goodnight and Mr. McCormick as a practical joke, and the alleged bride and groom, entering into the spirit of the joke, verified the announcement to a representative of THE CHINA PRESS, not realising that they were talking for publication. Congratulations are consequently withdrawn and notice hereby given that such announcements in the future be made through the Chin Chin column.

Gold, Left With Japanese Army In Siberia, Returned

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Tokio, April 20.—The long pending question of the Russian claim for the return of the gold bullion deposited in the hands of the Japanese Expeditionary Force in Siberia when the Red Troops rose against the White Guards, has received settlement after five months' negotiations between the War Office authorities here and Mr. Sakarovski representing the Russian interest.

The gold bullion was duly handed over to the Russian representative.

The gold in question was originally for a sum of about Y.210,000 but only about Y.100,000 was handed over to the Russian representative, the rest going to cover the expenditure of the latter during his stay here and also to meet the payments due for duty on gold bullion in this country.

Russian Church Convocation To Be Held Today

(Rosta News Agency)

Moscow, April 21.—At the All-Russian Church Convocation on the 29th instant there will be represented the following religious groups: the "Living Church," "Resurrection of the Church," "Ancient Apostolic Church," "Free Labor Church" and several dissident groups. They disagree on the questions of the administration of the church and the reformation of the religious service, but all are unanimous in condemning the adherents of Patriarch Tikhon, whom they consider as representatives of the old social church "regime." The progressive movement is in sympathy with the idea of the disestablishment of the church and does not recognise the patriarchal institution.

Referring to the alarm raised abroad in connection with the cases of Cepliak, Budkievicz and Patriarch Tikhon, the "Pravda" in a leading article says that it is caused by the fact that in the present cases prominent agents of the enemies of the Soviet Power are brought to trial. The Russian workers and peasants know full well that in the person of Tikhon the chief organiser and provocator of bloody disorders is brought to justice. No amount of pressure from abroad will prevent the Soviet Government from carrying out its duty to punish its criminals.

feared that some of them at least would die during the storm.

"I also have three orang-utan's and they managed to escape anything worth than the sniffles."

"And where are all the birds going?"

The question was prompted because of the cages after cages of fluttering, rainbow hued birds that cluttered the deck. They were of all sizes and shapes, all colors and shades, singing and silent.

DOVES FOR HAWAII

"When I left the tropics I had about 5,000 birds," Mr. Buck replied. "About half of them were doves of various species I secured in the Straits Settlements for he Hawaiian Government. Hawaii wants to restock the islands with doves and commissioned me to secure 3,000 on this trip. A larger number of them, however, were soaked to the skin during the storm, and simply died of penumonia or influenza, or whatever they call it in the winged kingdom. I threw 1,000 dead birds overboard last night just before we came into Shanghai.

"Some of the rare specimens I secured include those Victorian crowned pigeons from New Guinea."

"And where are they all going to settle down in the States?"

"Zoos all over the country, mostly to New York and Philadelphia. I have been appointed the director of a new $1,000,000 Zoo in San Diego, however, and a large part of the consignment will go there to start the zoo. Next year I expect to come back and secure another lot for the California zoo.

"You've certainly got a regular Noah's Ark," one of the popeyed tourists remarked as the inspection of the floating sideshow was completed. "All that's missing was the forty days'—it was 40, wasn't it—rain."

"And the storm we had for 4 days equalled the ancient's 40 days," Mr. Buck replied. "It's one of the worst trips I've experienced."

The floating circus will sail from the Central wharf at noon today for San Francisco.

couple to pursue a noble life. He dwelt on the bridegroom's care for the welfare of the workers, declaring that he made himself at home in mines, ship-yards and factories and brought together the boys of the work shop and the public school. He also dwelt on Lady Elizabeth's friendship for the Scottish country-folk.

The Archbishop said that the nations and classes, making up the Commonwealth, too often lived their lives apart and therefore it is a great thing to have one family, whom all regard in the true sense as their own, making the whole Empire kin and helping to give it the spirit of one family life.

The vast congregation knelt in silent devotion as the Archbishop of Canterbury, holding the Primatial Cross, pronounced the benediction.

The National Anthem followed. The wedding anthem was sung during the signing of the register.

The bride and bridegroom were escorted by the choir and clergy along the nave and emerged from the West Door amid the plaudits of the multitude and the pealing of the Westminster Chimes.

The weather throughout was perfect but one and a half hours later a peal of thunder and torrents of rain drove the crowds in the streets to shelter.

A touching tribute was paid to the nation's heroes by the Duchess of York. She did not carry her bridal bouquet to the altar but on the way placed it on the tomb of the unknown warrior in the nave of the Abbey.

The King has bestowed on the Duchess of York the dignity of Princess.

Reiss Brothers, Ltd., Are To Liquidate

(Reuter's Service)

London, April 26.—Messrs. Reiss Brothers, Limited, of Manchester, trading with China, principally in cotton goods, have announced that an official receiver has been appointed liquidator pending the hearing of a petition for the compulsory winding up of the company. The position is attributed entirely to the fall in value of goods lying on the Chinese markets at the time of the 1920 slump.

Athletes To Get Hearty Welcome

All indications go to show that in addition to the good times in connection with the competitions at the Far Eastern in Osaka the Chinese athletes will be warmly received not only by the Far Eastern Athletic Association and the Japanese Committee, but also by the Chinese residents in Japan.

A Chinese Welcome Committee in Kobe has sent a letter of hearty greetings and best wishes to the athletes coming to represent China in the Far Eastern Games. They are preparing a welcome reception to the whole team. A second reception has been planned by the Chinese Chamber of Commerce in Osaka. The Osaka Mainichi, one of the leading papers in Japan is planning a reception for the Chinese athletes and a visit through their printing works.

The Honan Provincial meet for the selection of athletes to tryout in the China sectional contests was held at Kaifeng April 18. 178 athletes participated and plans are now being consummated to send the winners to Tientsin for the North China tryouts on May 3 and 4.

ENGLISH CUP FINAL TO BE PLAYED TODAY IN LONDON

King To Open New Stadium At Wembley

GREAT BATTLE

Bolton Wanderers Are Favorites Over West Ham

BY C. E. SUTCLIFFE

Football enthusiasts will be particularly interested the great battle fought in London today for the Football Association Cup, commonly called the "English Cup." It is safe to say that no sporting event arouses more interest than this annual game between the survivors of the great knock-out competition.

The game between this year's finalists Bolton Wanderers and West Ham United will make further history in the annals of this popular event on account of the opening of the fine new Stadium at Wembley, constructed to hold well over 100,000 spectators.

No such Stadium could have been constructed by ordinary private resources. The site is ideal. Land might have no value. There has been no lack of money. The cost of the Imperial Stadium will be about £300,000, spent at a time when work for the mass was a boon and a blessing. The Stadium is a magnificent monument to the sporting spirit of Great Britain and the Empire. No such sports arena exists in any part of the world. Prior to the commencement of the game his Majesty the King will formally open the new Stadium.

It goes without saying that both teams will put up a great fight for the honor of being the first club to lift the trophy on the new ground. It is most fitting that the Metropolis should have a representative in this year's final and it would not be surprising if the record for these games of over 120,000 spectators at the 1912-13 final between Aston Villa and Sunderland went by the boards.

Bolton Wanderers are naturally favorites on account of their being a first division club, but class doesn't always win these games especially when meeting teams like West Ham who adopt typical Second Division swing the ball about methods.

Both teams however have many outstanding players who are likely to cause trouble to their opponents, and the West Ham defence will needs be on its mettle to stop the Bolton forwards possibly one of the finest combinations playing. Smith and Vizard on the left wing are a problem in themselves, and Jack inside right a player of the Charlie Buchan stamp, of Sunderland fame, is another great player and a dangerous shot.

As regards the West Ham team, Watson the young international center forward will need careful watching, along with Moore and Ruffell who have developed into a fine wing. Other outstanding players are Tresadern, Kay (who will be playing against his old club) and Hufton.

The following list will show at a glance how the respective teams earned the right to contest the final:

BOLTON WANDERERS

BASEBALL TOMORROW!

"If it doesn't rain any more and if the grounds are in condition to permit it there will be a baseball game Sunday afternoon between the Shanghai team and the Huron team," said Manager Gallop last night.

Herby, being an optimist, added that all indications pointed to a warm sun, with plenty of wind today, and he felt confident these factors would unite to put the playing field in prime condition for the season's first battle tomorrow. In the meantime he hopes the boys will lay off the pie and other sweet stuff as he wants everybody to be fit for the battle, in case J. Pluvius relents.

Four Fine Bouts Staged At Amateur Boxing Show

BY WESTA

The tournament staged last night by the Shanghai Amateur Boxing club in the gymnasium of the Public School, North Szechuen Road, furnished some thrillers, the second and final scrap being particularly lively. There were four bouts altogether, the wind-up consisting of a go between Carlson and Siemsen that was all to the mustard. Siemsen got the decision but it could have been called a draw without causing any hard feelings. The Babe was a trifle more aggressive in the final session than his rangy opponent, which was about the only excuse the judges could have had for giving him the decision.

The first event, between a couple of youngsters named Jones and Eveleigh, was fast and furious but not particularly scientific. Jones got the verdict.

Event No. 2 brought Jesu and Mercado together and these boys traded some wicked clouts. Jesu, who had much the advantage in both weight and reach, lambasted his rival all over the ring, finally landing a haymaker in the latter part of the second round. Mercado made him know he had been in a battle, however, and was enthusiastically cheered when he left the arena. Considering that Jesu gave Carlson a stiff argument the last time they met it was greatly to Mercado's credit that he held out as long as he did. He was full of fight from the gong and with a little more seasoning will make some of those boys step some.

In the semi-final Dietrich was given the decision over Abbas, which in the minds of many spectators was a mistake, as Abbas had all the aggression and carried the fight to his opponent constantly. Once he knocked Dietrich spinning. Dietrich is a tall, rather awkward boy and wore the smaller Abbas down more by sheer strength than anything else. He tried to land an uppercut, which with a wild swing comprises his repertoire, but without much success. Abbas is a solid, well built little lad who with growth and experience will make a first class scrapper. Last night he wasted his energy through an excess of aggression in the first two rounds, with the result that he was so bushed from his own efforts that he could hardly get his arms up when Dietrich began to maul him in the last session. Mr. Parkes will have to read him a few lessons on pace.

The final, between Carlson and Siemsen, was a pretty scrap. These boys are very evenly matched; both are fast as cats, and both are skillful. In two previous meetings they battled to a draw, hence when they clashed last night it was to settle a friendly feud as to which was the better man. For that reason both were perhaps a bit cautious in the early rounds, although Siemsen seemed a bit more willing to mix it than Carlson. The latter has a better defense than the Babe, and this stood him in good stead in their quarrel last evening, as he blocked some wicked and well directed clouts that would have left him listening to the birdies warbling had any of them landed.

The two boys did not get really warmed up until the fifth session, in which there was an exchange of wallops that made the onlookers forget to puff on their cigars and cigarettes. From that time to the end it was a wham-bang battle, with both boys putting everything they had into their punches. Both were so good on covering, however, that neither was able to get in a really solid punch at a vulnerable spot, although the way they whanged each other in the ribs and about the body was a caution.

In the tenth stanza Siemsen tore into his opponent like a tiger, so fast and furiously that Carlson didn't have much of a chance to start an offensive of his own. Despite his most earnest efforts, however, he was unable to do any real damage, and won the verdict solely because of his greater display of enterprise.

It would be difficult to predict the outcome if these lads were to meet in a finish scrap. Siemsen is a powerful, wedge shaped youngster, with wonderfully developed shoulders and arms, and thick through the chest, indicating a great reserve of lung power. Carlson, on the other hand, is of the rangy type. Of the two he is perhaps the more studious and calculating and it would be interesting to watch his tactics in a longer battle. He has a beautiful defense, seldom uncovering his chin in the danger zone and never loses his bearings, even when fists are buzzing around his bean like a flock of mad bumblebees.

Mr. Parkes certainly is entitled to great credit for the manner in which he has developed the lads who displayed their wares last night.

The following gentlemen officiated at the bouts: Referee Llewellyn Jones; Judges, Commander H. L. Harvey, R. N., and G. E. Matthews; Time-keeper, A. Herzberg.

Trophies were presented by Messrs. L. Midwood, V. H. Bourne, and others.

WING CLUB ETS, OFFICERS OR YEAR NAMED

ain Sergeant Reviews eason, Sees Fine Future For Oarsmen

t the annual meeting of the rnal Rowing Club, held last ning at the club house on Soo- w Road, the accounts for the r were passed and officers cted. Messrs. R. L. Sergeant d A. K. Brown were re-elected ptain and vice-captain, respec- ly, and Messrs. L. G. Day and T. Nash will continue for an- her year as treasurer and sec- tary. Messrs. Schlobohm, Col- r, West, Williams, Brodie, Mol- r, Evans and Campbell were amed as the committee for the year.

Captain Sergeant, in an address to the members, reviewed the year's work and predicted a great season for the club. He said in part:

Before putting the formal proposi before the meeting it is customary for your Captain to make a few remarks anent the past year's working, re matters financial, matters in general and sometimes matters personal. Our energetic Hon. Secretary, Mr. E. T. Nash, has prepared and circulated such a very comprehensive and detailed report, that he has to a very great extent cut away the ground from under my feet.

There are one or two points in the report that I should like to emphasize. Taking matters financial first, I think you will all agree that from this point of view, even the most biassed critic can only regard the past year as eminently satisfactory. During the year we have paid off a further Tls. 2,200 of our debentures, leaving only Tls. 6,200 outstanding, and our fixed deposit at the bank has been increased from $4,000 to $5,000. This latter figure includes the sum of $1,000 earmarked for New Boat Reserve Fund. Excepting this amount, the remainder of the fixed deposit will be available to be applied to meet the cost of the Bath improvements, and so relieve any abnormal drain on the working funds of the coming year.

You will have noticed that the item "Upkeep of Oars" shows the very considerable expenditure of of $1,764.97, and I should perhaps explain that this includes the cost of 62 new oars purchased from England, at a cost of about Tls. 20 each.

The matter of the renewal of the lease from the Consular authorities has already been dealt with fully in the report in your hands, and we hope the members of the Committee of the Union Church who will later be called upon to decide the actual terms of renewal will share their predecessors' feelings of good will towards the Club.

I think you will all agree that the satisfactory financial position of the Club in the past year is reflected, with interest, in the general or athletic side of the Club. In the Interport Swimming Gala, the Rowing Club took the Hon's share in its proportion of Shanghai representatives, and likewise in the number of points scored. In the Shanghai Championships the Club now holds all except the long plunge and the backstroke.

As regards rowing itself which is of course the premier activity of the Club, both the Spring and Autumn Regattas have very successful functions, and were a source of enjoyment to competitors and spectators alike. It cannot be too much emphasised that the future of rowing in Shanghai entirely depends on the Griffins of the present, and however much we may congratulate ourselves on the present showing of our senior men, we can only view the future with alarm unless the present day griffins will put their backs into it, and come forward in much greater numbers than has recently been the case. I would most earnestly recommend the incoming Committee to give this point most careful attention and to encourage by every possible means a larger number of entries in this class at the Regattas.

Lord Robert Cecil In America

LORD Robert Cecil, protagonist of the League of Nations, who is now lecturing in America, has been accorded a most cordial reception by the press of the United States. His first public speech, declared The New York Times, but served to deepen the impression which he had made in private and personal contacts. And this sentiment was echoed by others.

Lord Robert immediately made it plain that he was not in the States on a "mission." He was there for a free exchange of ideas. He has his own and is seeking those of America. To this end he has thrown his meetings open to questioners: in reply he frequently asks questions "on his own." Not wishing to impose his convictions upon any man, it is obviously his hope by free and courteous debate to bring out the truth which may lie on both sides. If the United States can propose to Lord Robert a better plan than the League of Nations, he will be the first to welcome and approve it.

Under this guise of a modest inquirer, however, people are finding out that Lord Robert carries a formidable debating power, says one paper. If a wise question is the key to unlock wisdom, a wise answer to even a foolish question is a sure means of letting in light. "In this aspect of his speaking Lord Robert has the advantage both of training and temperament. Not in vain did he stand in the House of Commons for a year as Under Secretary for Foreign Affairs to meet all questioners at a critical period of the war. He has thought his subject through and is equipped with more knowledge of it than have the great majority who seek to entangle him in inconsistencies. And the tact and adroitness and, occasionally, the gentle humor with which he replies to those who endeavor to catch him in his talk are most effective weapons as he uses them.

"He has caught something of the Yankee habit of answering a question by asking another. In the Life of his father, the late Lord Salisbury, it is recorded that that powerful controversialist used to have a way of asking his opponents deferentially, 'Would you mind defining?' Lord Robert often does this, by implication at least, with the result that those who come to question remain to agree.

"Lord Robert Cecil is confessedly an idealist, but he is one of the practical kind. He has been immersed in actual public business. He has had his part in the conduct of a great war. And in the measures which have been taken to remedy and prevent the evils of war, he has been a valued counsellor and an efficient agent. His cordial reception in every part of the United States where he chooses to go is assured in advance. His simplicity of manner, the absolute sincerity of his aims, his practical skill united with the highest ideals, are certain to win for him the hearts of all the American men and women privileged to hear him discuss the great project to which he has unselfishly devoted his life."

The Land Of Marco Polo

Here where the Eastern uplands glow
With poppies white as the driven snow
And the downs of China roll, oh!
It's good to turn in your saddle and view
A sight which the master traveller knew,
To feel in your face the wind that blew
In the face of Marco Polo.

An old red Chow runs to and fro
Growling and showing his teeth, as though
He wanted to lay a foe low,
While Panthay coolies in hairy mats,
Rope-soled sandals and mushroom hats,
Croon to their ponies a ditty that's
As old as Marco Polo.

And as we ride past the haunts of men—
Maize and plantains and huts—'tis then
Each pariah starts a solo;
While guinea-gold goblins point and stare,
And gaunt grey buffaloes snuff the air,
Just as they stared and snuffed, I'll swear,
At the sight of Marco Polo.

When we halt for the night by a rock-strewn stream,
When the rice-pots simmer and camp-fires gleam
And the light begins to grow low
Our ponies, quit of trestle and pack
Whinny and roll in the sandy track,
Just as they whinnied and rolled way back
In the days of Marco Polo.

Then ye who struggle where life is stern,
Come to the China heights and learn
How much may a traveller's soul owe
The land that the hazards of Time ignore,
That is as it was in the days of yore,
That is as it shall be evermore,
The land of Marco Polo.

The Rise Of Mussolini

Driven From Place To Place The Vagabond Prophet Of Revolution Becomes An Aggressive Socialist

(This is the third installment of the first informative biographical account of Mussolini to be published in China. It is a stirring and picturesque account of this remarkable man's rise from obscurity in a remote village of Romagna, through trials and adventures such as fall to the lot of few men, to the premiership of Italy. The writer is Antonio Beltramelli, the celebrated novelist of Mussolini's home town, who knows the dictator well and describes his life from an intimate view point.)

BY ANTONIO BELTRAMELLI

If Mussolini succeeded at all in bettering the conditions of his fellow workmen while in Switzerland he undoubtedly made his own much worse. He now saw himself followed everywhere by detectives, everywhere threatened with arrest and continuously told to move on from town to town. It was at Geneva that he came into certain prominence.

The great socialist Jaures had come on from Paris to deliver a lecture on the title: "Jesus Christ." The theater was packed. Mussolini was lost somewhere in the audience among the many nondescript workingmen who had come to hear the famous orator. Poorly dressed, with a hard, scowling face, with two fiery black eyes, he attracted the attention of many of his neighbors, who thought he must be some anarchist bent on violence.

As Jaures got into his speech Mussolini kept emitting grunts of disapproval. "Put him out, put him out," people began to cry. His voice rose above the tumult. "I am telling you what I really think," he called. The meeting was all but broken up. However, when Jaures had finished the chairman said to Mussolini: "Now, if you wish, you can say something."

Mussolini, though a mere strip of a boy, was not at all embarrassed by the great audience nor by the great personality with whom he had chosen to disagree. "I accept," said he, going forward to the stage, and he spoke with such power and brilliancy that Jaures himself came forward and shook his hand warmly in congratulation.

Shortly after persecuted by the police, discharged from job after job, out of work, reduced to the extremes of poverty, Mussolini decided to go home again. He returned to the volcanic soil that had given him birth, poorer than when he went away, but with some sense of his own power and greater experience in combat.

He became a familiar figure about the streets of Forli and in the other villages near by; a soft felt hat pressed down over his eyes, a scraggly, unkempt beard, a big umbrella for a cane. There was ever a menacing frown on his face.

"Who is that man?" people would ask, stopping to look at him.

"Why, that's Prof. Mussolini."

He was then translating "The Travels of Heinrich Heine" from the German, a book which at that time was his gospel.

He had "sold" this translation in advance to the ex-deputy, Pirolini, who had agreed to give him 25 lire when it was done. Five dollars for a task like that! This shows the condition the so-called intellectual proletariat of Italy was in in those days.

Talking with this friend or that out in the rain and snow of a winter's night on the streets of Forli he would suddenly break off in the middle of a conversation with the habitual sentence: "And now I am going home!"

"Where are you living?"

"At Dovia. I go home when I find no one about."

Now from Forli to Dovia is a distance of about nine miles, but he took that walk every day regardless of the weather and never went home till he could find no one still up and about the streets of the town to talk and argue with. A vagabond prophet of the revolution!

A PROPHET

Shortly after his return from Switzerland he took the competitive examinations for the position of "communal secretary," a sort of town clerkship. But this native village, Predappio, refused to accept him because people were afraid that he would be getting the village into trouble all the time. His reputation as a revolutionist was, in fact, already well established. Timid people of the bourgeoisie were already mentioning his name with a sort of reverent shudder. He was a feared and a persecuted man, anarchism incarnate, the exponent of the bitterest and most dangerous hatreds of the masses. When Benito was refused the secretaryship at Predappio which he had won on merit, his father, Alessandro, went out in a fury through the town, and to the proprietor of the medieval castle on the hill he uttered a sentence which is now recalled by every one.

"It was you who kept my boy from getting this job. Very well! Remember what I say. My boy some day will put you rich bugs and all Italy in order." The old blacksmith could not have realised he was to prove so good a prophet.

Benito's reputation as a trouble-maker reacted upon his brother, Arnoldo, a very gentle, moderate fellow, who held aloof from political combat and was devoted to his work and to his home. But he was persecuted almost as much as Benito. Whenever he would apply for a position it was enough for him to pronounce his name to find every door slammed in his face. In vain he would protest at such injustice.

"But you're mistaken: I am Arnoldo Mussolini. I have nothing to do with politics. I am the most harmless man in the world."

It was not enough. "Mussolini" had become the symbol of violent revolt. Any one bearing that name must be a dangerous revolutionist.

GOES TO FRANCE

Much less could Benito shake off his bad reputation himself. At one moment, from sheer need of making a living, he was disposed to change his point of view toward things. He got a position as teacher of French in a school at Oneglia, on the Riviera, north of Genoa. He had the best intentions in the world, resolving to apply himself exclusively to his studies and to his work as a teacher. But it did him no good. His name had come to occupy a prominent place in the records and in the thoughts of the Italian police. Detectives were set to watch him day and night. Everywhere he went he was followed and spied upon. Finally in disgust at this intolerable persecution he threw up his position without notice and went abroad to France.

Here he became a day laborer again, and it was not long before he figured in the inevitable strike, leading a mob of workingmen in a riot at Marseilles. A French gendarme suddenly appeared at his boarding house one day and took him into custody. Tried for sedition, he was condemned to deportation from France and escorted to the Swiss frontier.

But that was not a comfortable place to set him down. Unfortunately for Mussolini, he was known now to the famous "international police" as a revolutionary of the most dangerous type. He was not allowed to settle in Switzerland. With no place, indeed, for him to go, he headed back for Romagna, arriving at his home in Dovia more ragged than ever before, more bitter and more warlike.

JOINS SOCIALIST MOVEMENT

He now threw himself heart and soul into the socialist party, rousing the workers by his fiery speeches, filling them with the most aggressive ideas, reorganising the socialist movement in his native province as a militant fighting machine. The rural workers would come to him and say:

"It seems as though we ought to do this; it seems as though we ought to do that."

Mussolini would swear at them and cry: "'It seems as though we ought——' Is that the way to talk? You are like so many sheep. Why don't you say, 'We are going to do this,' and then go and do it? You are disgusting!"

His violent, decisive, uncompromising attitude filled the masses about him with awe. He became the veritable chief and master of Predappio and its environs—one thinks of some warlike feudal lord of the middle ages. He settled disputes among his "subjects," gave counsel to right and left, arranged marriages, baptised babies, all in the "Sacred Name of Labor." His oratory became more inflammatory than ever.

"You must work night and day for the cause," he would tell his followers. "There can be no rest for us until we have triumphed."

HIS FORLORN CONDITION

He went down to Forli at last as editor of the socialist daily called the Class Struggle. For this work the party paid him a monthly salary of 125 lire, less than $1

The progress of the human race
Has been along a crooked line;
But I have not the time to hunt
For facts long buried and obscure;
Behind me lies the past; in front
Is nothing that is known for sure.

There may be other worlds than this—
Indeed, I don't doubt that there are;
The region of eternal bliss
May be upon some brilliant star.
But, whether that be true or not,
It seems inconsequential now.
Another matter fills my thought
And brings the wrinkles to my brow.

Let those with nothing else to do
Find out how man began and where:
They may get word from Heaven, too,
Concerning all the wonders there;
A vastly more important thing
Disturbs the soul assigned to me:
A woman? Yes! I'm wondering
What her decision is to be.

I have no mind to try to trace
The cause of Babylon's decline;

Senewang Rubber Estates Company Annual Meeting

The annual meeting of The Senewang Rubber Estates Company Ltd. was held yesterday at the offices of the Secretaries and General Managers, Messrs. J. A. Wattie and Company.

Mr. G. Greyriggo presided, supported by Mr. E. T. Byrne, Mr. A. K. Craddock (Directors) and Mr. C. J. L. Stewart representing Messrs. J. A. Wattie and Co., Ltd., Secretaries and General Managers.

The Chairman's speech follows:

So many Chairman's speeches have already dealt with the benefits and new lease of life given to the rubber growing industry by enforced restriction that I need not repeat them, but I should like those responsible for bringing the restriction scheme to pass to know how grateful rubber shareholders are to them for their efforts. We owe them a very deep debt of thanks indeed.

I am very glad to come before you today with a happier report than was the case last year.

Progress on the estate has been continuous. I paid a visit there last August and was pleased with all I saw, particularly the splendid young areas now coming into the tapping round. The old areas that had suffered from mouldy rot had all recovered and were doing their fair share in earning revenue on a most conservative system of tapping. Even so they were yielding some 200 lbs. per acre per annum and are good for much more than that when demand is made of them. The areas cut out and replanted in 1920 had developed splendidly up to a point where they seemed to stand still. Digging in of green weeds and cover crops, however, should apply the necessary stimulus, then mimosa invisa will be sown down to prevent wash, and being a leguminous plant, will enrich the soil. Viewing the fine recovery of the other old areas, I am now of opinion these 94 acres should never have been cut out. Disease caused no worry during the year. Mouldy rot can be detached and need not be feared any more than other diseases for it yields readily to treatment.

Labor was plentiful and the force as I saw it seemed contented, healthy and happy.

All round I came away feeling that Senawang's bad times were past and over, and that it was and is very valuable property, and that on its capitalisation of Taels 225 per planted acre, it should pay us good dividends in due course.

In Mr. Ryves we have an excellent manager. The estate was in a poor way when he assumed charge and I desire to give him adequate appreciation for the uphill fight he undertook and has won for us.

The F. O. B. cost was 2½ pence less than the estimate, and 3¾ pence less than 1921, and had full production been allowed this year, I am sure a further reduction would have resulted. As it is the smaller crop means a slightly higher F. O. B. cost, but the rise in the selling price far offsets this.

The accounts also make better reading then those of 1921. A little analysis of the Profit and Loss Account discloses the fact that the Estate paid its way and also Shanghai expenses, this despite the very low prices of rubber prevailing almost all last year. Had it not been for Interest on Overcraft and a small loss in Exchange, the year would have resulted in a small profit. However as it is, the loss of Taels 3,769.29 is nothing to worry over.

The financial position of the Company is much improved. for whereas 1921 saw us with an overdraft of over Taels 30,000.00 the present account shews you that we had over Taels 36,000 in the Bank, and that our liquid assets exceed our liquid liabilities by Taels 37,000 odd. The Board took advantage of the improvement in the market to issue at par a further 80,765 ordinary shares, thereby placing this Company on a safe sound basis now and I trust for all time.

A footnote appears on the Balance Sheet respecting the liability of Taels 5,088.55 same being interest due to January 31 1923 on the 12 percent Cumulative Preference Shares, but although we have plenty of cash in hand the Company's Auditors tell us that we cannot pay this interest until the amount of Taels 20,075.18 standing to debit of Profit and Loss a/c. is cleared off. We are now, however, accumulating profits every month and I hope we shall be able to discharge this overdue interest before very long.

Before closing, I would like to tell you that the Company has made a forward sale of 22 tons February-December delivery at the price of 67¼ cents Straits Currency per pound.

The resolutions adopted were:

Resolution No. I. That the report of the Directors and Statement of Accounts for the year ended January 31, 1923 as presented be adopted and passed.

This was seconded by Mr. E. T. Byrne.

Resolution No. II. That M. E. T. Byrne be re-elected a Director of the Company.

Resolution No. III. That Mrs. Lowe, Bingham and Matthews be re-elected Auditors to the Company for the ensuing year.

The Rise Of Mussolini

a day. On this miserable pittance he had to get along himself and keep the wife he had recently married. He lived in a miserable peasant's hovel, the family more than once skipping meals because there was nothing to eat. When a little girl was born he had no bed for her. He went to a second-hand furniture dealer and bought a crib for $1.80. Unfortunately, there was no mattress for the crib and he had not a cent to advance on one. Finally the furniture man found an old bag, filled it with straw and offered it to him with the words:

"If this will do, professor, you are welcome."

"It will do," said the professor.

Taking the bag under one arm and the crib under the other, he walked away from the store toward his home, scowling to right and left in contempt for the prosperous citizens of Forli, whom he held in such superb scorn.

HE LEADS A MOB

Shortly afterward he was arrested at Dovia in the course of a fight over the question of thrashing machines. The proprietors had bought their own thrashers and painted them yellow. The socialist organisations had their own thrashers, which were painted red. The question came up as to which machines should be used in thrashing the harvest. Benito Mussolini took charge of the quarrel and roused the socialist farm hands to destroy the machines of the proprietors. He was the first man to lay hands on the shafts of one of the offending machines. His men followed him and the offending thrasher was rolled over a cliff and broken to pieces on the stones in the bed of the Rabbi. A regiment of cavalry rode out from Forli and placed Mussolini under arrest. From this scrape he was finally released on bail.

(The next installment of Mussolini's biography will be printed tomorrow.)

CASTORIA
for Infants and Children.
Don't Poison Baby.

FORTY YEARS AGO almost every mother thought her child must have paregoric or laudanum to make it sleep. These drugs will produce sleep, and a few drops too many will produce the sleep from which there is no waking. Many are the children who have been killed or whose health has been ruined for life by paregoric, laudanum and morphine, each of which is a narcotic product of opium. Druggists are prohibited from selling either of the narcotics named to children at all, or to anybody without labeling them "poison." The definition of "narcotic" is: "A medicine which relieves pain and produces sleep, but which in poisonous doses produces stupor, coma, convulsions and death." The taste and smell of medicines containing opium are disguised, and sold under the names of "Drops," "Cordials," "Soothing Syrups," etc. You should not permit any medicine to be given to your children without you or your physician knowing of what it is composed. Castoria does not contain narcotics.

"I find your Castoria is very beneficial in the treatment of children's ailments." F. DAVIS, M. D., Chicago, Ill.

"As the father of thirteen children I certainly know something about your great medicine and, aside from my own family experience, I have, in my years of practice found Castoria a popular and efficient remedy in almost every home." WM. J. MCCRANN, M. D., Omaha, Neb.

"I object to what are called patent medicines, where the maker alone knows what stuff is put in them, but I know the formula of your Castoria and advise its use in proper cases. I judge it to be a very useful, as well as harmless family medicine." N. B. STEER, M. D., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Business Flourishing In U.S. Says Federal Reserve Board

The following despatch was received yesterday by the American Commercial Attache, Shanghai:

The Federal Reserve Board reports that member banks throughout the country are largely "loaned up." An increased demand for commercial loans was noticeable throughout the month. The combined report of the twelve Federal Reserve banks shows an advance in total bills on hand from $790,000,000 on March 7 to $867,000,000 on March 21, while the ratio of total reserves to deposit and Federal Reserve note liabilities has declined from 76.2 percent on March 7 to 75.7 percent on March 21

Call money rates have advanced during the month, reaching 6 percent on several occasions with a low of 4½ percent during the month. Bond sales averaged around $60,000,000 per week during March, while stock sales have been heavier than usual, ranging above 6,000,000 shares weekly. The average net yield of ten high-priced bonds advanced from 4.61 percent to 4.75 percent during the month. This downward trend in the bond market was not followed in the stock market until the last week in the month.

IRON AND STEEL

Domestic demand for iron and steel continues at a high rate and foreign buyers are coming into the market. Iron and steel prices have advanced steadily during the month and mills are now reluctant to place future orders on their books. Builders and railroads are especially heavy buyers. The United States Steel Corporation announced that during 1922 its gross business amounted to $1,092,697,722, a gain of $106,000,000 over the preceding year. After deducting operating expenses, taxes, maintenance and depreciation charges, and interest on subsidiary bonds, the net income totaled $58,840,801, as against $55,957,832 in 1921.

Bituminous coal production has remained practically stationary, averaging around 10,500,000 tons a week. Anthracite production has fallen off slightly—a seasonal development.

MUCH BUILDING

The building industry continues especially active with an extraordinary demand for material and labor. It is felt in many quarters that rising prices and wages in this industry may bring about a reaction with serious consequences unless it is held in check.

The textile industry is working at top speed with an immense consumption of its goods. The cotton market has been quiet. There has been much activity in the Chicago packer hide market, whereas conditions in the leather trade are irregular.

Car loadings began to show an appreciable increase early in the month, but this tendency was changed by the unusually bad weather that followed. Commercial failures continued to decrease.

Wage advances averaging 13½ percent have been made during the month in the textile industry in the North. It is generally expected that the steel industry will increase wages in the near future.

The progress toward prosperity has been faster than was predicted and this condition will probably continue unless it turns into inflation.

British Women's Association

The weekly report of the British Women's Association is as follows:

The following new members have joined since the last announcement: Mrs. R. N. Nickels, Miss N. P. Jervis, Mr. J. Tomlinson, Mrs. A. S. Long.

B. W. A. Residence.—At the general meeting held at the Lyceum on Wednesday, March 21, much diversity of opinion was expressed on the subject of the proposed new B. W. A. Residence and it was considered advisable to call an extraordinary general meeting at an early date to discuss the matter in detail. This took place on April 12, at the Cathedral School for Boys, with Mrs. Simms in the chair, supported by Mrs. O. M. Green, Mrs. Gull, Mrs. H. P. Wilkinson and Mrs. Peebles.

Three schemes were laid before the members for their consideration as follows:

No. 1.—A joint erection by the American Woman's Club and the B. W. A. of an international building in the Settlement, each association concerned having its own floor for offices and residences with common public rooms and restaurant. This scheme was proposed by the American Woman's Club.

No. 2.—A residence in the Western district with headquarters in town as proposed at the general meeting.

No. 3.—A scheme to procure an existing building in the central district which could be altered at reasonable expenditure so as to fill all the requirements needed for a combined headquarters and residence.

After much discussion it was proposed that the three schemes be postponed for at least six months, during which time the committee should investigate and place on record the various points in favor of each. This proposal was seconded in order that the most feasible scheme could be matured, and in the meantime the committee could go into ways and means to raise money for whatever was decided in the autumn. This was carried by the majority.

Mrs. Simms said that a committee should be elected to deal with the matter until the autumn and those willing to serve on this committee were asked to send their names in to headquarters before Monday, April 16, when seven would be chosen, three from the executive committee and the other four from the whole Association. As there was no further discussion, Mrs. Gull proposed a vote of thanks to Mrs. Simms and proceedings terminated at 10 minutes past 7 o'clock.

New Secretary.—After a long period of strenuous activity, Mrs. Graham Barrow and Mrs. C. E. Sparke have resigned their positions of joint secretaries and the best thanks of the Association are due to them for the excellent work accomplished during their time in office.

Members will be pleased to learn that Mrs. John Snodgrass, who is well known for her active interest on behalf of the Association, has been appointed to fill the vacancy.

Gardening Section.—To the great regret of the Section the adverse weather conditions prevented Mr. Porterfield from giving his interesting Botany lecture in Jessfield Park last Friday; they are looking forward, however, to meeting him on May 25, and are hoping for fine weather on that occasion.

Members are urged to prepare for the forthcoming flower shows of the Section, a Rose show to be held on Thursday, May 17, and a Sweet Pea show on Friday, June 1.

It is hoped that as many as possible will compete in the various classes, particulars of which will be found in the circular recently sent out by the Section.

Members and their friends who wish to purchase lettuces, 10 cents each, can obtain them by telephoning to the Hon. Sec., W. 31, who will give them the names of members to whom they may apply.

Literary Section.—During the month Mr. Ayscough was "At home" to the Literary Section at her new house in Penang Road where she gave a most interesting lecture on famous women in Chinese poetry illustrated by old Chinese paintings in her possession. This proved a most enjoyable affair and the Section was very grateful to Mr. Ayscough for her kind hospitality.

Judge Grain's paper on "Lady Stanhope," given on April 17 when the Literary Section were "At Home" to members and their friends, was an unqualified success. The romantic story of this eccentric lady was appreciated very much by the large audience present, as was the delightful tea served under the direction of Mrs. W. S. Read. The last meeting of the season will be held on May 1, when Mrs. Bromfield will read a paper on the Philippines.

Needlecraft Section.—The next meeting will take place on Monday, April 30, and the subject for the occasion will be the cutting out of simple dresses.

Dramatic Section.—This Section, contrary to its original intention of retiring on its laurels until next season, is producing (with) the help of Miss Toog, a delightful entertainment for children at the Cercle Sportif Francais on Monday, April 30, and Wednesday, May 2, at 5.15. The program includes "Robin Hood," a play acted entirely by children and parents, are reminded that tickets, adults $2, children $1, can be obtained at Messrs. Moutrie & Co. The proceeds to go to the King's Daughters' Convalescent Home for Children.
